

The laboratory of modeling and simulations of crisis phenomena

The laboratory of modeling and simulation of crisis phenomena allows to simulate various types of crisis phenomena in the social, technical, technological, but also in the natural environment. The optimal solution for emergencies requires preparation crisis scenarios that simulate the negative effects of crisis phenomena and allow the planning of preventive measures, and resources to address them. Thanks to simulation technologies, the proposed measures can be verified, optimized and also improved.

---

Technology for modeling and simulation of crisis phenomena in transport to increase effectiveness of decision-making